

ESSENTIAL

Financial Requirements Overview

INZ's specific per-month guideline, and how sponsorship fits in

VERIFY BEFORE YOU APPLY

Fees, forms, and processing times change without notice. This guide reflects publicly documented procedures as commonly published; treat every dollar figure, form number, and timeline here as a starting point, and confirm the current version on the official government site before you submit anything or pay any fee.

INZ's specific per-month guideline

Unlike many other countries in this catalogue, Immigration New Zealand publishes a specific reference figure per month of intended stay, rather than leaving it entirely open: commonly framed as NZD 1,000 per month if you're paying for your own accommodation, or NZD 400 per month if your accommodation is already paid for in full. These figures are published guidance and are updated periodically - confirm the current amount directly with INZ before relying on it.

What matters in practice

- Funds proportionate to your stated trip length at the applicable monthly rate
- Consistency between your stated income, your bank statements, and your travel plans
- If a sponsor's INZ 1025 Sponsorship Form covers your accommodation and/or maintenance, that reduces or replaces what you need to evidence yourself for the portion it covers

Acceptable evidence

- Bank statements covering a reasonable recent period
- Pay slips or an employer letter confirming income
- A completed INZ 1025 Sponsorship Form, for the portion of costs it covers
- Pre-paid accommodation confirmation, which lowers the required monthly rate

Red flags

- A large, recent, unexplained deposit shortly before applying
- A sponsorship form that doesn't match what your own evidence shows for the remainder
- Funds that don't scale with your stated length of stay