Visa Application Centre Appointment Checklist

Canada - Study Permit, biometric appointment day

Before your appointment

- Confirm your Visa Application Centre (VAC) location, date, and time
- Pay the processing fee and biometric fee, and complete the online application in full
- Check whether you're exempt from giving biometrics
- Gather your document set (see the Document Checklist)

What to bring

Item	Notes
Passport	Valid, for identity verification
Letter of Acceptance	Printed copy, even though the details are already in your application
Appointment confirmation	Printed or on your phone, per the VAC's instructions
Financial evidence	Original documents, not just uploaded copies, in case requested
PAL	If your situation requires one
BIOMETRICS ONLY, USUALLY NO INTERVIEW Most Study Permit applicants aren't interviewed - your VAC visit is for fingerprints and a photo. In some cases IRCC may request additional information or a procedural fairness letter if something in your file needs clarifying - this is a normal part of the process, not evidence something is wrong.

At the centre

- Arrive at your booked time
- You'll go through identity verification, fingerprint and photo capture

After your appointment

- Track your application status through your IRCC secure account
- If approved, you'll typically receive a Port of Entry (POE) Letter of Introduction - the actual Study Permit is issued at the border when you arrive, so bring this letter with you when you travel

— If refused, see the Refusal Decision Guide (Premium tier)
