Pre-Departure Checklist

From visa granted to enrolling at your Australian institution

2-4 weeks before departure

- Check your grant notification for your visa conditions and validity
- Confirm your OSHC policy is active and covers your arrival date onward
- Check your passport's remaining validity against your course dates
- Confirm your CoE's start date against your planned arrival
- Arrange accommodation - many providers offer on-campus or partner housing with its own application deadline

The week before

- Save or print: passport photo page, visa grant notification, CoE, OSHC policy details, and proof of your accommodation
- Share your itinerary and emergency contacts with someone at home
- There's no visa label to bring - your passport number alone is what's checked electronically

Day of travel

- Arrive at the airport with sufficient buffer time for an international departure
- Keep your passport, CoE, and printed financial evidence in your hand luggage - not checked baggage
- Complete Australia's incoming passenger declaration as instructed by your airline or on arrival

At the Australian border

An Australian Border Force officer makes the final entry decision, and can ask questions consistent with your Student visa application. Be ready to briefly confirm your course, provider, and CoE details.

After you arrive

- Enrol with your provider by the date they specify - providers have a reporting duty to the department if you don't enrol or attend as expected
- Declare any food, plant, or animal products on arrival - Australia's biosecurity rules apply to everyone, separately from your visa conditions

- Open an Australian bank account if needed
- Check your visa conditions for your specific permitted working hours before taking any part-time work
